The Sons of Auld Scotland in the Banquet Hall.

Annual Dinner of St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society.

The annual dinner of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society is, without a doubt, the most important festive gathering of the year, and the annual recurrence of St. Andrew's Day is always looked forward to by the sons of Scotia with an anticipatory zest and relish only exceeded by the actual delights of the event itself. This year was no exception to the rule, and the dinner at the Driard last evening was quite as successful, both in point of attendance and in all other necessary accessories to a pleasant and social reunion, as any event of the kind that has preceded it. Captain Irving, the genial President of the Society, was unavoidably absent, owing to pressing business engagements, but the place at the head of the table was very ably taken by Mr. Thomas Russell, an ex-President and a most enthusiastic Scotchman. Mr. Wm. Lorimer, 1st Vice-President, and Mr. John Robertson, 2nd Vice-President, presided at the foot of the tables as first and second vice-chairmen respectively. Of the menu, it is sufficient to say that it was in the best style of the Driard, which is the highest praise we can bestow upon it. The guests sat down about 8:30, the chairman having on his right Hon. Wm. Smithe, Mayor Fell and Mr. C. E. Redfern, and on his left, Col. Stevens, U. S. Consul, Mr. A. B. Gray and Mr. M. W. T. Drake.

CONGRATULATIONS.

After "ample justice" had been done to the sumptuous bill of fare, an operation that occupied about two hours, the chairman read a letter from President Irving, which thanked the members for the honor of his election, promising to use his best endeavors to forward the interests of the society, and regretting that important business kept him away. Letters of apology were also read from Lieut.-Governor Cornwall and Dr. Helmcken, and the following telegrams:

VANCOUVER, Nov. 30.—Many thanks for your kind invitation. Regret exceedingly that I cannot be with you to-night. The day and a' wha' honor it. Guid health and joy be wi' ye.
M. A. McLEAN,
Pres. St. A. & C. S.

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—May the chrils o' Victoria be as blythe the nicht as the chiels o' Montreal wish them; our hearts are fu' wi' jubilee joy.
HUGH McLENNAN,
Pres. St. A. Soc.

During the evening the following telegrams were also received and read:

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 30.—We drink to our sister societies the land we left, and the land we live in. Join us and what's like us.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—All hail St. Andrew's Society of Victoria; Britain's brightest western gem. We drink your health in a bumper.
DAVID PORTER, Pres.
JNO. BAIN, Trustee.

THE TOASTS.

The first toasts—"The Queen" and "The Prince and Princess of Wales," &c., proposed by the chairman, were honored with the customary enthusiasm.

"The President of the United States," was proposed by Mr. W. Lorimer, who very truly remarked that as our neighbors were in such close proximity they were almost part and parcel of ourselves. Col. Stevens, U. S. Consul, replied in a felicitous speech. He said that it gave him pleasure to reply to a toast responded to in such a hearty manner. He had had occasion several times before to speak of Grover Cleveland and the satisfactory manner in which he had discharged the various offices which he has held, and he felt sure every person in Victoria was well acquainted with President Cleveland's record, and would admit his great ability and patriotic devotion to duty. He cordially thanked the proposer and the company for the warmth with which the toast had been given and received. In many respects Chester A. Arthur, who had just passed away, was one of the most remarkable Presidents the country had ever had. It was only a brief time since he (the speaker) had come to this beautiful city and it appeared to him that Victoria had already doubled in size. He trusted that the accord and harmony now prevailing between the two great nations would long remain undisturbed. (Cheers.)

Mr. J. Robertson proposed the health of the Governor-General.

Mr. A. B. Gray gave the Lieutenant-Governor, a toast which he described as the echo of the first toast of the evening. It was satisfactory to know that if not present to-night, the Lieut.-Governor was in the happy hunting grounds, although perhaps not the same as departed Indians go to. The present incumbent had exceeded his time in office, and the toast might probably be better as "the great unknown," as we were still in the dark as to who would fill the office in the future. It was probable that the visit of a certain civic functionary to the east may have had something to do with the matter, but whoever the appointee might be, he hoped always to see the representative of Her Majesty at all Scottish gatherings, where he would always be honored as such. (Cheers.) Music—"The Englishman."

Dr. Milne, in giving "the Clergy," remarked that they were, as a class, deserving the sympathy and support of every person imbued with right ideas. Music—"Old Hundred."

Mayor Fell proposed "The Press." He described it as the most important toast of the evening. It was one of the greatest powers of the age, and was moving society from one end of the universe to the other. It was impossible that we could agree with everything that the newspapers said, especially when they abused us. (Laughter.) The men who represented the press held most responsible positions and were undoubtedly the leaders of the people. Music—"Bid me Discourse." Responded to by representatives of the Colonist, TIMES and Standard. Song by Mr. J. Russell—"Jessie, the Flower of Dumblane."

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers," proposed by Conn Smith. Music—"Red, White and Blue." Mr. J. C. McCandless, on behalf of the volunteers, responded. He said they were the hardest worked and poorest paid men in the community. The army and navy had made Great Britain what she is to-day. The volunteers were of later date, but they had proved themselves especially in the Northwest, competent to take the places of old soldiers. (Applause).

"The Dominion Senate and Commons" was proposed by Mr. M. W. T. Drake, who said we had reason to congratulate ourselves on the attention British Columbia affairs had received at the hands of the Commons which had relieved us of our difficulties. We would soon be called upon to elect our representatives again, and he would advise them to be cautious in making their selections.

Music—"Bonnie Dundee."

In the absence of both Ottawa members, Mayor Fell was called upon. He regretted that this august assembly was not favored with the presence of our representatives, but as he had just returned from a part of the Dominion he had never visited before, he might be permitted to say something about it, and about the gentleman who holds the destinies of this country in his hands. He would say, without fear of contradiction, that if the Dominion of Canada failed to support Sir John A. Macdonald in the coming struggle, they would be traitors to the cause. (Sensation.) If there was anything that appealed to an Englishman, it was the courtesy he met with when abroad. When in Montreal he met Scotchmen who claimed that he was a Scotchman (laughter) and when he told them that he was born in Cumberland they said Cumberland was in Scotland, and he let them have their way. Canada has much to thank Scotchmen for. He had with him the picture of the President of the Montreal society ("pass it round") and he could tell them when they met with a true hearted Scotchmen like him they met with a splendid citizen. (Applause.)

Councillor Robertson sang "Bonnie Charlie."

"The Local Governor and Legislature," was proposed by Mr. James Burns, who praised the present government for the prosperity now being enjoyed by the province. Music—"Braw, braw lads o' Galla Water."

Hon. W. Smithe responded. He thought he had replied six times to this toast consecutively, and nothing new could be expected from him. He regretted that the local government and legislature was so poorly represented here to-night (laughter)—in point of numbers he meant. Whatever our political views, he thought it would be admitted that the country was more prosperous now than ever before. It had been prophesied that on the completion of the C. P. R. and the Island Railway, there would be a great depression, but he had combatted that idea and was happy to say that it had not been realized. He had recently seen a map of B. C., on which was marked the various railways for which charters had been applied, but he had no idea there were so many. We were just now entering upon a railway era, and an era of great prosperity, and he hoped there would always be a government in power that would help to forward its progress and prosperity.

Mr. John Grant, M. P. P. for Cassiar, said, as a representative of the far north, it afforded him great pleasure to reply to the toast. It matters not how much members differed in their personal views, he thought all worked to the best of their ability for the best interests of the province. Every government courted criticism, and it was criticism that made a good healthy government. It was not in the interest of the country that a government or opposition should be too strong, any more than they should be too weak.

Mr. J. McArthur sang a song and Mr. James Deans proposed "the Bench and Bar."

Mr. M. W. T. Drake replied. The profession of the law was one, he said, no country could get along without, for as long as we had governments to make law men would be required to interpret them. The bar of B. C. stood as high as that of any other portion of the Dominion and he felt sure that nothing could be said against the personal integrity of any member of the Victoria Bar. Mr. J. Stuart Yates also made a happy reply.

"The Mayor and the Council," proposed by ex-Mayor Redfern. In doing so he reminded them that a few years there was a man named McAdam, who thought that putting stone on the roads would be a good plan, but our councillors seemed to think that it would improve them by throwing mud on the stones. Afterwards they scraped the mud off. But generally speaking, when one looked around and saw the roads, and observing the manner in which the laws were administered, it would be admitted that we were well governed. Music—"Barring o' the Door."

Mayor Fell said whatever may be the shortcomings of the present Council, he had seen no axe to be ground, and if there was any they had been kept out of sight. The desire of the Council was to administer the affairs of the city to the very best of their ability. Their desire was to make Victoria the gem of the Pacific. He had not met a Canadian who had not expressed a wish to see Victoria, and it was our desire to make it everything that it should be; and if you give us the money ("oh!") we will try to make it as far as it will go. There may have been mistakes, but they were not mistakes for the purpose of putting money in the pockets of any person. No stone would be left unturned to merit the good opinion of the citizens, and everything would be done for the general good and for the good of the largest number.

Coun. J. Grant as a Councillor said he was surprised to hear his old friend, Mr. Redfern, pitch mud at the Council, but before he sat down he found that he was a jewel of a man. The Mayor had said, and he agreed with him, that if the Council had not done everything that was expected of them, they had done the best they could. It was necessary to make Victoria not only a desirable place to live in, but an attractive place, and if the next council performed their duty as well as the present one, the people would be satisfied and the city would steadily go ahead. (Applause.)

Coun. Smith also replied. He said the funds of the corporation were in a flourishing condition, and in a short time the city would be called upon to vote $500,000 for sewerage. He was in favor of a pro rata assessment instead of a frontage tax, and hoped to see it carry. (Applause.)

Coun. Robertson said the council had done the best it could and to the best of its judgment. The method employed for the macadamizing of Yates and Government streets was the one recommended by scientific journals, and he thought it would be found to be the best. The regular Macadam method was also being tried, and whichever proved the best would be adopted. The revenues had been distributed very generally and he thought to the satisfaction of the people. It was to our interest to make Victoria the finest city on the coast, and by beautifying it and its surroundings this could easily be done. (Cheers.)

The toasts "St. Andrew's Society of San Francisco," and St. Andrew's Society of New Westminster," were drunk with enthusiasm. Mr. Yates sang an original song, to the tune of "Bonnie Dundee," which was encored.

Col. Stevens proposed "The St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society," which he thought had greater ramifications over the globe than any other society. Music—"We'll hae nane but Hieland Bonnets here."

Mr. Thos Russell replied. The society, he said, is progressing. It has done much good in the past year, and he hoped that it would give a better account this year than it had ever done before. The object was to assist those who were in distress, and more particularly those who came to our shores seeking employment. The best assistance you can give a man is to find him something to do. Since our last annual meeting a St. George's Society had been organized, and he had no doubt there would next be a St. Patrick's Society. It has frequently been found that other than Scotchmen had been sent to the St. Andrew's Society for assistance, and he could say that they were never turned away empty handed. This society would work harmoniously with the St. George's Society, and each would lend a helping hand whenever they had occasion to come before the public for assistance. (Applause.)

Mr. D. R. Munro sang "The Standard on the Mar" in splendid voice.

"The Sister Societies," proposed by Mr. W. Lorimer. Music—"A man's a man for a' that."

Mr. C. E. Redfern, of the Pioneer Society; Mr. M. W. T. Drake, of St. George's Society; Mayor Fell, of the B. C. Benevolent Society; Mr. D. R. Munro, for the St. Andrew's Society of Portland; and F. Steele, for the French Benevolent Society made brief and appropriate responses.

The chair then called upon the bard of the society, Mr. James Deans, who read the following

Original Poem:

This nicht I sing, in guid braid phrase,
Auld Scotland's glens, auld Scotland's braes.
Her music sweet, her simple lays
To Scotsmen dear.

The storms which gather on her hills,
The rains which swell her mountain rills,
Her simmer burns, wha's music thrills
Fond lovers' ears.

The flocks which range her muirland braes,
Whare heather blooms in simmer days,
Whare laverocks pour their sweetest lays,
And hail the morn.

Frae dewy mead, frae flowery maze,
Whare gentle streamlets onward stray,
Whare youthful lammie sports and plays,
And brairdin corn.

Soft comes the lang drawn gloamin' hours
O'er fertile vales, and shady bowers;
While gentle dews the drooping flowers
Make fresh and fair.

By hill and dale, the mavies sings,
Sweet echoes from the wood and springs,
While saft and low sweet warbling rings
Auld Scotia's airs.

O Scotia, may thy simple lays
Lang be thy glory, pride and praise;
They bring the happy days
O' life's gay morn.

They bring to mind each blithesom scene,
By hill or dale or mountain green;
Each wee[l] kent spot again is seen,
Where we were born.

They lead us o'er our native hill,
Up through the glen, where stood the mill;
Like autumn's flowers, they linger still
In memory's page.

And fancy paints them as of yore;
We see them now as seen before,
We little wreck the change brought o'er
All things by age.

My mither took me on her knee,
When saut tears dimmed my youthfu' e'e;
To dry those tears she sang to me
In homely phrase.

Though mither dear has lang syne gane,
Those sangs they were no' sang in vain;
I love to hear them sung again,
Those simple lays.

Those simple lays we ne'er forgot,
They licht wi' joy life's chequered lot,
And dear to many a wandering Scot,
Far, far away.

Thy music, too, has charms I find;
It cheers alike the troubled mind;
It drives our weary cares behind,
And bleak dismay.

Thy wings are soared to the hills;
Thy music's murmured by the rills;
Till death comes I'll love them still,
Thy rustic lays.

Thy songs they tell by hill and glen
Of noble deeds by noble men;
Divinely given, and Scotsmen ken,
Each homely phrase.

"The Commercial, Agricultural, Manufacturing & Mining Interests" were proposed by Mr. John Grant. In giving this toast he said he was gratified to learn that our agricultural interests were looking up. An enormous decrease had taken place in the amount of goods imported, which were now coming by way of the great C. P. R., a road which was the greatest achievement of any country, civilized or savage. Our agricultural interests have been belittled, but he could say that that portion of the province from Sicamona Narrows to Okanagan Lake, was capable of producing sufficient flour to support the whole of the population of the Dominion. (Cheers.) An average yield of several thousand acres was over 2900 pounds to the acre, and with such land in the province and to such a large extent, it was apparent our agricultural capabilities were far greater than we imagined them to be. Our manufacturing interest was in its infancy, but it was growing. There was no reason why we should not have a woollen mill in the province, or why iron should not be manufactured, as we have the ore, the coal and the limestone at our doors. Had it not been for our mining interest we would not be collected around this board to-night, and he believed that within two years we would see such a development in the mining industry of the province as would astonish every person. The fishing industry was growing, and he felt satisfied that in a few years our sea farm would produce an immense amount of wealth for British Columbia. (Applause.)

Mr. Adam Innes, in response, said that last season's production was a most favorable one. Besides prices were good. He was also a source of gratification that the Canadian Pacific Railway had been completed and that so many settlers had located in the province. The agricultural interest was progressing commensurate with the other developments of the province.

Song—Mr. Jas. McArthur.

Mr. Sutton proposed "the Land o' Cakes." He held that Canada owed its position to the blood infused into its new life by the land o' cakes, and he believed when we took a distinctive national character, it would be very like that which would originate in the land o' cakes. (Cheers.) Music—"Scots Wha Hae."

Mr. J. J. McClimont proposed "Scotchmen, wherever they may be" in an eloquent address, during which he said that Scotchmen occupied a front seat in science, arts, civilization, commerce and everything. The leading spirits of the C. P. R. were Scotchmen. If there were any great engineering feat to accomplish, a Scotchman would be found at the head. Alluding to the condition of the crofters of the Island of Skye, he said he would never uphold a law that permitted such tyranny. (Applause).

Mr. Bishop sang "Finnigan's Wake."

Coun. W. A. Robertson, in an eloquent speech, proposed "the Land we Live In," which was "the toast of the evening." He eulogised the Dominion of Canada and pointed out that while retaining a love for the old lands that gave us birth, it was the bounden duty of every man who has adopted this country for a home, to think, speak and act for Canada first, last and always. He warned them to guard well their liberties and prevent a system of land tenure that would permit or lead to old world feudalism and tyranny. Music—"Our Ain Fireside."

A number of other toasts and songs followed, his Worship the Mayor gallantly responding to "the ladies," and shortly after 2 a. m. the banquet was brought to a close by "Auld Lang Syne," sung by the entire Company.

THE SCANDAL CASE.

Continuation of the Evidence for the Defence—The Servants Examined.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The hearing of the Lord Campbell divorce suit was resumed to-day. Rosa Baer, formerly lady's maid to the plaintiff, testified for the defense. She said the Duke of Marlborough frequently visited Lady Campbell. He usually came in the afternoon and was shown to the drinking room. Witness never saw any familiarity between Lord Colin Campbell and Mary Watson. Lord Colin had not instructed witness to leave the letters for her mistress in the hall, but to take them to her. Some of the letters witness carried to the plaintiff. The latter burned many of these. She placed some of these in a box under her bed. In June, 1882, Lady Campbell, who was at the time at home, in company with Lady Miles, called on witness. Lady Miles told witness she had blackened her mistress' character, and must leave, and that if she did not go at once the police would be called in to put her out. Lady Colin gave her ten pounds, when only four were due, as wages. She told witness to tell the other servants in explanation of her sudden departure that her father was ill and that she was going home. Lady Colin, added the witness, said that she considered witness as a sister not as a servant and kissed her goodbye, saying it was Lord Colin who had dismissed her. Witness had posted letters daily to the Duke of Marlborough She sometimes took them to his house Lady Colin used to leave the house at 8 p. m., and return as late as 2 the following morning. On some of these occasions would accompany her mistress a short distance from the house and would be told to return. On some of these occasions Lady Colin usually carried a long felt hat concealed under her cloak. Some times in undressing Lady Colin, after her return from these absences, witness found her dress partially disarranged. Once witness found a gentleman's handkerchief in Lady Colin's room, at High Court. Plaintiff she said she knew to whom it belonged and took it. Once witness heard somebody after midnight ascending the stairs and Lady Colin coughed. The person then entered the door of the room adjoining the plaintiff. The door of the room was shut, and witness was dismissed. Next day witness found evidence that the room had been occupied by two persons. Once heard the Duke of Marlborough in Lady Colin's room in the afternoon. On one occasion while witness was brushing Lady Colin's hair, after midnight, somebody outside the room tried to open the door and, finding it locked, then departed. Witness saw Chief Shaw lurking outside the house with a carriage in waiting. The carriage went away and Chief Shaw entered the house. Witness often mailed letters to Chief Shaw from Lady Colin.

Being cross-examined Miss Baer admitted that she cried when she was dismissed from Lady Colin's service, and that she said she was sorry she had talked to the servants. She had been "a wicked gossip." She admitted she had written Lady Colin both from abroad and after her return to England, and that the plaintiff never answered her letters. She denied having threatened to "expose Lady Colin," when the latter allowed the witness letters, asking for money to remain unanswered. At this stage, counsel for the plaintiff cross-examined witness closely, and she admitted that two weeks ago she had signed a statement that Lady Colin dismissed her because she knew too much about her and she had thought it necessary to tell Lady Colin that she would expose her. On being asked to explain how it came that she signed such a statement and now admitted that it was untrue, the witness said that she thought it to be true then, but I think untrue now. This recantation caused a sensation amongst the audience. Continuing in close examination witness admitted that the Duke of Marlborough always called upon Lady Colin during the usual visiting hours. He came twice or thrice and some times weekly. Witness posted letters to the Duke of Marlborough some times twice a day. On the occasions when she took the letters to the Duke's residence she put them in a little box, rang the bell and then ran for home. She had been instructed to do this. On these occasions witness then admitted the statements she had made on her direct examination, that she had found in undressing her that Lady Colin's dress was open at the back of her skirt and disarranged, and her petticoats out of order, on the occasions when the plaintiff left home early in the morning, were not true. Witness had not found Lady Colin's dress untaced. She had found her petticoat unhooked once. On being pressed the witness admitted that it was not her petticoat but that the skirt was simply unhooked, so that she could see the petticoat beneath the skirt; that was all. Under further pressure the witness admitted that she had never suspected that anything wrong had occurred between Lady Colin and other persons but the Duke of Marlborough. Witness admitted that in 1884, and again six weeks ago, she signed statements alleging that she went to Leigh Court during the Christmas holiday with Lady Campbell and discovered the position of the room occupied by her mistress and by the Duke of Marlborough as adjoining; and further alleging that the Duke paid great attention to Lady Colin. Witness, however, now admitted that it was a mistake, and that it all occurred at Easter. This testimony caused a sensation. Counsel for plaintiff applied more pressure and Miss Baer finally admitted that the Duke of Marlborough was not at Leigh Court at Christmas. She also admitted that the statements she had made in her direct examination, about hearing someone on the stairs after midnight, and enter the room adjoining Lady Colin's, and the finding of a gentleman's handkerchief in Lady Colin's room next morning, and indications that two persons had occupied room, untrue. Witness in her original statement contended that she did not say two persons had occupied the room on the occasion referred to. Witness only remembered that incident last week. Nearly every one of Miss Baer's admissions, under cross-examination, provoked a sensation, in view of their damaging effect upon that side of the case, which was largely built up on what she had previously stated in writing. The case is still in progress.

IRELAND'S ELECTIONS.

The Lord Mayors of Dublin and Limerick—Irish Decline Honors—A Grand Master.

DUBLIN, Dec. 1.—Timothy D. Sullivan has been re-elected Lord Mayor of Dublin. Mr. O'Keefe, Solicitor, has been elected Lord Mayor of Limerick. Both Sullivan and O'Keefe have pledged themselves to refuse the acceptance of any honors which may be offered by the Queen during the jubilee year.

John Dillon heads the list of candidates for the office of High Sheriff of Dublin.

Alderman Richard Power has been re-elected Mayor of Waterford.

The Earl of Ern has been elected Grand Master of the Orange body.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

ST. CATHARINES, Nov. 26.—The authorities have decided to abandon the charges of Sunday desecration made against the canal tenders.

Sir John Macdonald has given orders that no vessels shall be allowed to pass through the Welland canal on Sunday, except in case of distress or when there is danger of the vessel being frozen.

DAMAGE TO SHIPPING.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 26.—Last night's gale along the Nova Scotian coast was one of the severest experienced for a long time. In Halifax the velocity of the wind was 30 miles an hour, and on Prince Edward Island 45 miles. Numerous vessels were totally wrecked or seriously damaged.

ENCOURAGING HOME MANUFACTURES.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—The government has completed arrangements by which almost the entire equipment of the Northwest Mounted Police force will be obtained in the Dominion. Extensive contracts were awarded to Canadian manufacturers some time ago. The Bonstiel factory order was filled; and a new issue of uniforms are now being made.

TORONTO'S NEW CHIEF.

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—Lieut.-Col. Grasett has recently been appointed chief of police, vice Major Draper, resigned on account of ill health.

AMERICAN HAPPENINGS

CLEVELAND DYING.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The President been confined to his room for two or three days by a slight, but annoying attack of rheumatism and for this reason he has been obliged to deny himself to all callers, except cabinet officers. He is feeling somewhat better to-day. He has suffered from rheumatism before, but this is the first attack he has had since entering the White House.

A DESIRABLE BUREAU.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Lieut. Joseph Powell, of the Signal service, has been detailed to proceed to Omaha to organize for the Meteorological service of the Union Pacific Railway, which is to co-operate with the U. S. Signal service bureau. About thirty stations will be established along the line of the railway. It is stated that the Northern Pacific and the Canadian Pacific Railways also contemplate establishing a meteorological service and signal service bureau. With these aids it is believed a cold wave, or any other decided change in the temperature, can readily be traced in its eastern course.

TROUBLE WITH A DIVA.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—Theodore Thomas started for New York this morning. Before his departure he stated that he had decided that the Mme. Furschmadi's suspension should extend over one week, and that if the board of directors did not sustain his action he would resign from the presidency of the Co. Thomas' order for the suspension of the diva is owing to her refusal to sing unless the stage furniture was arranged to suit her.

THE BISHOPS' CONFERENCE.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—The Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church began their annual meeting here to-day for the purpose of fixing the order of the Episcopal visitation to the annual conference next year and for the transaction of other business.

SUPREME COURT OF CANADA.

The Toronto Globe's Ottawa special telegraphs that journal the hearing of the Supreme Court cases on the 23rd ult. He says the case of Sen v. McLean was next taken up. This is an appeal from a decision of the Supreme Court of British Columbia in a suit for specific performance of conditions in a sale of land at auction, this decision setting aside the verdict of the jury on the trial before the Chief Justice. Robinson, Q. C., and Eberts, of the British Columbia Bar, appeared for the appellants. Respondents filed no factum, and did not appear on the appeal. The argument was concluded before the court rose, judgment being reserved.

SIR JOHN'S HEALTH.

Our Ottawa dispatches of the 26th ult., to the Winnipeg journals states that Sir John's health is again precarious and is causing alarm. On Monday last, when attending a meeting of the cabinet he became ill and had to retire, being unable to return during the day. Since leaving for the west he is very little better, and could not speak at Berlin and other meetings at which it was announced he was to be present. It is feared the campaigning tour is more than is shattered health can withstand and that he will be compelled to return to the capital and live in seclusion till the heavy meets.

THE EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Not satisfied with the establishment in this province of one experimental farm, by the Dominion Government, the Colonist is now on the warpath for one on the Island as well as on the mainland. The reasons for such a demand, by our contemporary, are that a different climate prevails west of the Cascades to that in the upper country; and that it is consequently necessary to have a couple in British Columbia—one in the upper country and the other on the coast. The Colonist should be practical in this matter, which is fraught with so much importance to this province. For the great provinces of Ontario and Quebec there is but one experimental or central station—and that in the neighborhood of Ottawa. Ontario's climate varies possibly as much as does that of this province. On the shores of Lake Erie and in the Niagara District peaches, grapes and tobacco attain maturity and ripen early in the season. On Lakes St. Clair, Huron, and Superior, the Georgian Bay and the Ottawa river, entirely different countries are to be met with. In making the selection we are persuaded Professor SAUNDERS' sound judgment, and thorough knowledge of his business, will stand him good stead, and that wherever the experimental farm in British Columbia will finally be placed the selection will be regarded as having been made wisely and well. No barriers should be thrown in his way, nor sectional jealousies raised. If, in the future, it is found that the Dominion farm is not sufficient for experimental purposes in this province, it will be the duty of the provincial government here, as elsewhere, to step in and supplement the efforts of the Federal government. From the outset, however, it must be understood that these farms are to be on an entirely different basis to the Ontario School of Agriculture at Guelph, which, in addition to imparting to students a practical and technical knowledge of the farm, farming and stock raising, likewise prepares him for a university examination. So far as can be judged, in these respects, the Guelph concern has been eminently successful. Financially, however, it is not yet a self sustaining institution. But it is improving yearly and the hope is now entertained that ere long it may be able to make both ends meet. Meantime we shall be pleased to learn that the machinery has been set in motion for the working of the Dominion experimental farm in some suitable locality in this province. Every assistance should be rendered Prof. SAUNDERS when he reaches the province to enable him to arrive at a correct conclusion on the subject.

MUST SPREAD OUT.

It is the belief of those who can "discern the signs of the times," in reading newspapers discussions, that there is but little likelihoood that the United States markets will be opened to Canadian fish. On the Ottawa government, then will devolve the duty of finding new markets for the fishermen of the Maritime provinces. It is now suggested that it might be a good idea for the government to appoint agents to push the fish trade in the West Indies, South America, and in Europe. Something must be done, and that speedily for our fellow countrymen on the Atlantic seaboard, otherwise it may be necessary to extend to them support, for they cannot suffer through want of the bread of life. In this connection it may be well to observe that the United States has consuls in all parts of the world who greatly assist in extending American trade. Canada depends upon the British consular service, which, of course, has no interest in the extension of Canadian trade. Just at present the Dominion cannot afford to maintain a large consular service, but some of the advantages of such foreign representation may be secured by the appointment of agents for special purposes. If such appointments are made the agents should be selected not on account of political services, but because of familiarity with the fish trade, and their salaries should in part depend upon the work accomplished. There are many men in the Maritime provinces competent to fill these positions satisfactorily. They could travel through the countries to which they are sent establishing fish markets and collecting information of value to the Canadian fish trade. The great aim should be to establish direct trade with these countries. Under the old arrangement with the United States, the trade with the West Indies and other countries was largely in the hands of American merchants in Boston and other cities, who bought fish from Canadians, and then exported them at a profit. There is no reason why this trade should not be carried on by Canadians, instead of allowing the Americans the profits of middlemen. The new treaty between Spain and Britain, of which Canada shares the privileges, will give Canada a new advantage in Spain, and all the Spanish colonies, which being Roman Catholic countries, are large consumers of fish, and by a little enterprise on the part of Canadian fish traders, they might, with the assistance of the Dominion agents, become entirely independent of American legislation. In view of the success of the Canadian cheese and fruit exhibits in London, and the effect they are said to have had in stimulating trade, the establishment of a Canadian fish market in London under Government supervision might be very beneficial to Canadian fishermen. More good may be done in such ways than by the payment of bounties to fishermen.

SUPREME COURT.

(Before Hon. Justice Crease.)

Bell, pl'ff. v. Nelson, def't, and Bell, pl'ff. v. Earle, Nelson and others, def'ts.

JUDGMENT, 19th Nov. 1886.

CREASE J.—This was an application of the judgment creditors of Uriah Nelson, in an administration suit, instituted against them by Ewen Bell, his partner, in the firm of U. Nelson and Company, merchants, Clinton, for the payment out of court to them of the sum of $6,100, the proceeds of the sale of the interest of the insolvent partner, Uriah Nelson, in pursuance of an order of Mr. Justice Crease, of the 19th March, 1886, for the sale of the same under the following circumstances:

On the 24th June, 1885, the plaintiff and Uriah Nelson entered into partnership as merchants, under the firm name of Uriah Nelson & Co., and carried on their business at Clinton. In the month of September, 1885, divers judgments were recovered in the Supreme and County Courts against the said Uriah Nelson; one by Thomas Earle, on the 4th September, 1885, for $22,583. A fi fa was issued thereunder and by virtue thereof the sheriff entered and took possession of all the share, right and interest of the said Uriah Nelson, as partner with the said Ewen Bell, in all the book debts, goods, chattels, effects and stock in trade used in the said business. On the 10th September, 1885, attaching orders were obtained under the several judgments in the County Court, which had been had in favor of the persons for the respective amounts and in the order following: No. 2, Moses Lenz, $767.04; 3, Turner, Beeton & Co. $1,057.25; 4, Belmont Co., $721.75; 5, Braverman, $542.25 and costs; 6, John Weiler, $1,112.50. On the 16th September, 1885, Mr. Combe was appointed receiver of Uriah Nelson's estate as to judgments Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5; and on the 29th Sept., 1885, as to Weiler's judgment under an attaching order of that date. On the 12th October, 1885, Ewen Bell was appointed receiver in Bell vs. Earle and others, without salary, with power to sue for debts. His accounts were passed, and he discharged on 24th June, 1886, when he paid in a balance of cash in hand of $559.38. On the 25th February Mr. Bales was appointed special referee to inquire and report on the value of the interest of Uriah Nelson in the firm of U. Nelson & Co., Clinton. The moneys which had come to the plaintiff's hands as receiver and the disposition of the moneys; the debts due by, and to, the firm, and any other matters. On the 3rd March, 1886, Mr. Bales reported upon the accounts and matters upon which he had been appointed to enquire as follows:

Uriah Nelson & Co. Statement of assets and liabilities as on 1st February, 1886.

ASSETS

| | |
|---|---|
| Merchandise | $17,589.38 |
| Buildings and land | 100 |
| Cash | 559.38 |
| Total assets | $19,139.76 |
| Liabilities | $16,096.90 |
| Including 8,000 promissory notes made by Ewen Bell in favor of U. Nelson for purchase of share in business and shewing good book debts | $10,367.64 |
| Nett value of each half interest to be. | $6,705.25 |
| Bell, as Receiver, having cash in hand. | $559.38 |

On the 19th March, 1886, Mr. Justice Crease made an order of court for the sale of the interest of Nelson in the partnership business of U. Nelson & Co., at Clinton, in payment of the proceeds of such sale into court to abide further order therein; for payment into court by Ewen Bell of the moneys shown by such report to be on hand, and for payment of the applicant's costs of and incidental to such proceedings to be taxed, and that the judgments recovered by the applicants might be satisfied out of the monies on hand, and to arise from the proceeds of such sale. On the 2nd April and subsequent days an advertisement was inserted in the Daily Colonist, of Victoria giving notice of the sale of the interest of Uriah Nelson in the business of U. Nelson and Company at Clinton, "consisting of the store, stock and book accounts, promissory notes, effects and all individual interests of Uriah Nelson in the said business. The sale to take place by auction, at G. Byrnes' Sales Rooms, Victoria, on the 14th April 1886." On the 14th April, 1886, the sale took place accordingly; and all the above interest including the book debts and credits were sold to J. McLeod, for $6,100. That amount, with $559.38, the balance of the amount of Ewen Bell, receiver, in all $6,659.38, was paid into court to await the order of this court.

The question then arises under the present motion: How and in what proportion is the $6,659.38 in court to be distributed? Does the fi fa of Thomas Earle swallow up the whole, or do those creditors having equitable executions participate, and in what proportion and order? The law on the whole subject is in a very unsatisfactory position. But it is of great importance as a guide to future cases to ascertain, as far as we can, what is the law as to the seizure and sale of one partner's interest under a fi fa in a firm consisting of two or more partners; the remaining ones being solvent. It was conceded by all parties that the receiver, Mr. Harvey Combe, stood at the time of the sale in exactly the same position, quoad the fi fa and its proceeds, as the sheriff did under Thomas Earle's judgment, when he was superseded. The law regulating the mode in which such an execution should be carried out has passed through a phase of doubt. At first, under the old law, the sheriff considered that each partner was entitled to an undivided share of every article belonging to the firm, without any reference to the state of the partnership accounts; and so he seized the whole, or as many as were requisite of the partnership effects, and sold the undivided share of the judgment debtor therein. He seized the whole of everything, because without that he could not seize the share of the judgment debtor therein. And then as he could not sell the whole, the solvent partner's part as well as the execution debtor's —he sold an undivided share in it. "Jacky v. Butler in Q. Lord Raymond p. 871 (says Tindal C. J. in Johnson v. Evans, 7 M. and G. 249) is a distinct authority that the sheriff under such seizure could not sell more than a moiety, for the property of the other moiety was not affected by the judgment or the execution." Holt, C. J., in Heydon v. Heydon 1 Salk, 392, says: "The sheriff must seize the whole and sell a moiety thereof undivided, and the vendee will be tenant in common thereof with the other partner." Lord Mansfield made an alteration in the practice, for he sanctioned the seizing and selling the whole of a sufficient portion of the partnership goods, then, directing an account of the judgment debtor's share of the proceeds of the sale, and that share, or a sufficient part of it, was handed over to the execution creditor. Eddie v. Davidson Doug. 650. This did not answer, as it involved taking all the partnership accounts which a court of law had no power to do.

It is now, therefore, clearly settled and the present practice is, as under the old law, that the sheriff's duty is to seize so much or the whole of the partnership effects as may be necessary, and to sell the undivided share of the debtor partner without reference to the state of accounts between him and his partners. Holmes v. Mentze 4 H. and E. 127, S. C. In that case, Lord Denman said: The Sheriff is to sell for such interest as the defendant has as a partner not for the degree of

THE PADRONE SYSTEM.

WHAT AN ITALIAN GENTLEMAN HAS TO SAY ON THE SUBJECT.

An Infamous System of Slavery Existing in the Large Cities of the United States—How Ignorant Italians Are Lured to This Country by False Promises.

The most active person in this country against the padroni is an Italian, a gentleman of character and ability, Capt. Celso Cæsar Moreno, who has already been instrumental in doing much good in this direction. He it was who called the attention of the lamented Charles Sumner to the infamous traffic of kidnapping Italian children and bringing them to this country to serve as street musicians and the like. In the course of a conversation with Capt. Moreno the other day the question was asked:

"Does the padrone system still exist?"

"Yes, to a greater extent than ever before. Thousands of Italians are enticed away from Italy under the false representations of grants of fertile lands and a milder climate than they enjoy in their native land, with chances of finding any number of gold mines in the lands which are to be allotted to them, and the prospect is held out to them of becoming rich in a very short time. If they have not the ready money to pay their passage to America it is paid for them by the land company, which is described as one of the greatest charitable and benevolent institutions in the world. Speedily such dreams vanish on their arrival here. They are put to organ-grinding, some with a dancing girl or monkey, others as street sweepers, others still to pick rags, while those who are too old and infirm to do anything else are put to begging, being furnished with false certificates of losses by fire or government persecution in their native land, which had forced them to come to this country in order that they may not utterly perish. They are even compelled to play the part of blind men.

SLAVES TO THE PADRONES.

"What they get in the way of money is at once taken possession of by the padrones as soon as the slaves come home at night. They are educated to look upon the Americans as their enemies, a fear being instilled into their minds that foreigners are looked upon with suspicion and the like, and therefore being in danger of going to jail upon the slightest pretext. Many of those who are thus brought to this country are of the criminal and lower classes of Italian society, who come here perchance to escape punishment in Italy, never dreaming that they are running away from imprisonment, perhaps, at home to become slaves to the padroni. Why, right here in this city, within sight of the Goddess of Liberty on yonder dome of the capitol, there are some 800 of these Italians who have come to this country to partake of the bounty which the great land company had in store for them. They are at work upon the new reservoir.

"I have said that many of them were of the criminal classes. One of the reservoir colony is now in the District jail under sentence of death for murdering one of his companions. His father in Italy is a noted brigand, who has just been arrested over there and put in prison. You have them in your city of Cleveland, in Cincinnati, and other places in Ohio. They are put to all kinds of work. You think them rags, but they are held in a bondage that is worse than that which held the slaves in the south, for in the case of the latter you knew they were slaves, but in the case of these Italians their real condition is withheld from the world. There are 30,000 of this kind in the city of New York and 15,000 in Chicago." Oh, the thought fills me with indignation. It is unjust to my country. People see these miserable people and they think the whole Italian nation just like them. Some months ago I addressed a letter to the king of Italy on this subject.—Washington Cor. Cleveland Leader.

CHILDREN OF THE CHINESE.

Joaquin Miller Talks About the Little Celestials—Affectionate Creatures.

To one who has seen all the world, there is not so much that is picturesque in the Chinese colony here; and I could not truthfully indorse nearly all that enthusiastic tourists say of either their shrewdness or interest in any way. For example, as a lack of common sense, they have marble and stone seats in one of their big stores here, to accommodate customers. The best and biggest of these stone seats have marble backs. Enough to paralyze the spine of a white man—even a Chinaman, I should think—in five minutes. And I could go through the colony here all day, and pick out dozens of like exhibitions of a low order of common sense.

Some color is to be found here, and that is a relief to the eye which has to put up with the mournful dress of the average American, after a residence in Mexico. But it is not very picturesque. The pigtail is simply repulsive. And a Christian Chinaman who had his hair cut is hardly more attractive. His coarse, thick Tartar hair is perhaps at its best when closely shaven and tied up in a cue, after all. As for the rolling, lolling, lazy and hideously helpless Chinese women, I know of no object to which you can safely apply that much-used and much abused word, disgusting, as to one of these pitiful and totally inane creatures.

The one real and uninterrupted delight here is the Chinese children. They are not very numerous; but they are bright, wonderfully full of fun, and very beautifully dressed. There is a confusion of sex, however. Did I ever tell you that a Mexican boy baby puts on his little pantaloons the day he is born and wears them right along? Well, the babies of both sexes here seem to do that, so far as I can find out.

It is worth while any day to climb the hill into the heart of San Francisco, and half way to the top, to see these children run and tumble and laugh and play in their peculiar and highly colored clothes, just like other children. They have not much room, but they are chock full of heart and light spirits, and make the most of what little room they have in their narrow streets. Like a little donkey or a little darky, the Chinaman is at his best, so far as personal levity goes, when he is very small.

No trouble seems to come this way for these kittenish little heathens, these curious little citizens, tumbling around under the legs of their sedate sires up here on the pleasant hill overlooking the glorious bay and all the battle ships. The boycott and the Chinese question are terms which I reckon they have never heard. And whatever may be tied up for them in their uncertain future, let them shout out the spirit of play that is in them now to the full. Care will come soon enough to our colored citizens of Asiatic descent.

The Chinese parent is the most affectionate I ever saw among all the nations of the earth. And this may be in part because the children are not numerous here; but it is no guess work to say that it is largely because the child reveres the parent. To see a little fellow quit his play suddenly and run and lay his little red or yellow silk head up against his adoring father, as he stands on the sidewalk watching him, is funny, if not affecting.—Joaquin Miller in Chicago Times.

THE EMPIRE GROWS RAPIDLY.

Capt. Edward Palliser, in a letter to the London Times says: It is probable officers on the China Station are not yet aware of the determination of the Canadian Government and the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway to open a direct trade with Japan and China from Vancouver, their new port on the Pacific; and, further, that the Imperial Government has consented to subsidize a line of powerful mail steamers for that route, bringing Yokohama ten days and Honkkong five days nearer London. The Empire grows so rapidly that such vantage ground as Port Hamilton, once acquired, should be held not so much for its present as for its future value. The time is approaching when Canada will do a large trade with Japan and China, our mails and merchants also passing by the new route. In view of this, our position at Port Hamilton cannot be regarded otherwise than of great strategic importance to the Empire.

AN EFFICIENT OFFICER.

The Newcastle Chronicle of Oct. 28 announces that "it is proposed to acknowledge the services of Mr. R. Plummer, jun., to the ship owners and others using the Suez Canal. It is no secret that much of the agitation which resulted in the lowering of the dues of the Suez Canal had its origin in the Newcastle Chamber of Commerce, and it was suggested and supervised by Mr. Plummer. There are few men more deserving of recognition of long service than Mr. Plummer from the users of the Canal. And as the Suez Canal Company have benefitted from the lowering of dues, it would be a gracious international act if they would subscribe to the fund." The gentleman referred to in this paragraph is secretary to the Newcastle Board of Trade and brother to Mr. R. Plummer of this city.

THE DEMI MONDE.

The social evil is not, it would appear, to be longer permitted to flourish in this community without interference from the police. The policy, heretofore, has been to ignore the existence of houses of prostitution so long as the inmates did not otherwise transgress the law. This was, to a certain extent, a legal recognition of the evil. But this has been changed, and four of the leading demi monde have been summoned to the police court on charges of keeping houses of ill-fame. They will no doubt be fined, but what then? The women will go on as formerly. Having adopted a new method, the police will be bound to continue it, and bring them up again and again. If it is criminal to keep a bawdy house to-day, it will be criminal a week hence, or a year hence, and if the keepers are fined to-day they must be fined a week and a year hence.

WHERE TRUE MERIT WILL DO.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cts., large bottles.

THE SLUGGER.

The directors of the Victoria Theatre have concluded not to allow the champion and his brother pugs to perform there. One reason, and a very proper one, is that the audience would be men of all grades, who in their excitement, would be very apt to injure the seats, besides the danger of fire from smoking. The skating rink is a better place for the "entertainment." The pugilists on a raised platform could there be viewed by everyone. As to any blood being spilled that is out of the question; the affair will be conducted on scholarly principles, that is to say, "cut and dried" as it were.

TO BE OPERATED.

A correspondent writing from New Westminster states that the brick yard which Mr. Thos. E. Henderson sold to Mrs. Howison, in the Park reserve, is now operated by Mr. Monogane, a nephew of Mrs. Howison. Mr. Henderson has ordered a complete new outfit from the east wherewith to manufacture bricks. It will be modern in every particular, and of great capacity. These enterprising young men are deserving of every encouragement.

CUSTOMS COLLECTIONS.

The collections at the port of Victoria for the month of Nov. were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Duties | $61706 68 |
| Miscellaneous | 519 08 |
| Chinese Act | 203 |
| Total | $62,519 61 |

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 30.—Custom receipts for the month of November at this port is as follows: Duties, $6,788; other revenues, $6,028. This is an increase $1,183.02 over same period last year.

GELIC SERVICE.

The Rev. Donald Fraser, of the First Presbyterian Church, Pandora street, will conduct a service in Gelic in that church on Sabbath afternoon, the 12th instant, at 3:45 o'clock. About a year ago the same gentleman preached a sermon in Gelic, which was largely attended and much appreciated by those who attended.

INLAND REVENUE.

The inland revenue collections for the month of November, I. R. were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Tobacco | $ 792 00 |
| Cigars | 1078 35 |
| Spirits | 4079 71 |
| Malt | 691 00 |
| Other revenue | 56 00 |
| Total | $6737 70 |

TEA MEETING.

The annual tea meeting of the First Presbyterian Church, Pandora St., will be held in the school room this evening. A splendid programme has been in course of preparation for some time past, which will be faultlessly rendered this evening. Tea served between 6:30 and 7:30. No better place to spend an evening could be found than here. Admission 50 cents.

SETTLED.

The damage done to Mr. G. Simpson's store, Douglas street, by the overflow of water from a tap, left open in the Odd Fellow's Hall last Friday night has been settled for by the Odd Fellow's Union. Appraisers differed slightly as to the compensation; the difference was split and $125 accepted by Mr. Simpson.

FINE SPECIMEN.

The head and horns of a mountain sheep shot by Mr. T. W. Booth, of Toronto, in the mountains near Calgary, are on view at the Clarence. They are a very fine specimen.

right which he may be found to have on a winding up of the affairs; because if the sheriff waited till that could be ascertained the goods might remain unsold for an indefinite time. Under the law as it formerly stood, and stands now, the sheriff in a case of partnership, however inconvenient it may be, must sell the share of the defendant's partner, and make the purchaser tenant in common with the other partners, and the purchaser must do the best he can to ascertain what interest there is. Under this state of the law the sheriff seized under the judgment of Thomas Earle.

Before the Judicature Act, no question would arise in the present case, and the usual course would have been adopted; but since that act the enquiry naturally occurs: Can the sheriff sell also the book debts, which as choses in action and intangible are equitable assets.

After a careful search into the authorities on the point, I think he cannot. The powers of a fi fa are not enlarged to effect that result. The sheriff sues by virtue of that writ, the bona et catalla of the judgment debtor, and nothing more; and has power to assign the same to a purchaser, if necessary (ex parte). Villars 1 ch., 432, by private contract and nothing more. If he sells the goods themselves and not the share he is accountable to the solvent partners for so much of the proceeds of the sale as is proportionate to their share in the partnership. S. Lindl, 4 ed. 690, Mayhew v. Herrick, 7 C. B. 229, 18 L. J. C P. 179. Before the Judicature Act it was necessary for the purchaser from the sheriff and the copartner to settle their accounts by a suit in equity. At present, however, we have only to do with the judgment creditors. The assignment by the sheriff transfers only so much as the sheriff has power to, and does, assign.

If therefore, under the fi fa the sheriff has not the power to sell everything which as between partners must be considered partnership property; for instance the book debts—he cannot transfer to the purchaser the entire interest of the judgment debtor.

In one case a purchaser bought from the sheriff the interest of the execution debtor, and then assigned it to the other partners. It was then decided that the execution debtor had a right to an account from the partners, because the sale of the sheriff had not diverted him of his entire share. This was the case of Habershon v. Blurton, Degex & Smale, 121, where the form of the conveyance from the sheriff to the purchaser nominally included, besides the tangible assets, under the fi fa, "all the book debts and accounts due, &c.," which were intangible.

The course which has been adopted in this case, under the authority of Lindley on Partnership, 4 ed. 693, appears to be as effectual an one, as, under the existing state of the law can be devised:—viz., upon the seizure, the partner of the execution debtor obtains the order (1) dissolving the partnership; (2) directing the sheriff to withdraw; (3) directing the amounts of the partnership to be taken, and the value of the execution debtors' interest in the property seized by the sheriff to be ascertained and (4) appointing a receiver. In carrying out this plan in the present instance, the receiver, when appointed, superseded the sheriff in the possession of all that was seized by the fi fa., And as at the sale, not only the tangible assets of U. Nelson in the partnership, were sold, but also, all his interest in the book debts and choses in action of "U. Nelson & Co." the receiver became possessed of all U. Nelson's interest in the equitable as well as legal assets of that firm.

This view is supported by several cases of recent date since the Judicature Act, and there are probably several more to be found. For in Webb v. Stenton and others, 19 B. D. 518, where a judgment creditor applied for a garnishee order attaching his debtors share of monies to arise half yearly in the hands of trustees, Cave J. said, (Day J. concurring): "The "simple course is for the plaintiff to apply "for the appointment of a receiver, which "would give him all he seeks to obtain by "the present order." In Niggle v. Bland, 11 Q. B. D., on the exparte application of a judgment creditor, he was appointed receiver of the income of the judgment debtor's wife under the will. In Westhead v. Riley, 25 Ch. D. 413, the judgment creditor had endeavored to enforce the judgment by a writ of fieri facias, which was ineffectual, by reason of the defendant's goods being covered by a bill of sale. Discovering some equitable assets in the shape of costs directed to be paid out of a fund standing in the Palatinate Court, he applied for equitable execution. Chitty J. decided: "There is "no way of getting this fund except by "appointment of a receiver, which operates on an equitable execution." Now, the value of the execution debtors' interest in the property seized by the sheriff is merely the value of the bona et catalla, the tangible assets, seized by him. The balance of the proceeds of the sale, after deducting these assets, is the value of the interest of U. Nelson in the intangible, or equitable, assets of the firm. The relative amounts of these two different kinds of assets can only be ascertained by a reference to the Master, to enquire and report thereon. But before payment out of court of these sums, there are several deductions to be made from the gross amount of the monies paid into court, namely, the salary of the receiver—five per cent on the gross amount. The cost of the accountant and special receiver (Mr. Bales) to be taxed by the registrar; also the applicants' costs of and incidental to the administration suit Bell v. Nelson, and to be taxed by the registrar. As to the residue of the said sum paid into court then remaining, the registrar must ascertain—and on that purpose (at the expense of the fund in court, if necessary, employ an accountant—what is the value of the interest of Uriah Nelson in the tangible assets of the said firm seized by the sheriff and sold under the order of sale of 19 March, 1886. That will be the sum to be paid to Thomas Earle. The balance then remaining in Court after all such payments to be paid to the several creditors holding judgments against the said Uriah Nelson, (and as he who comes for equity must do equity) rateably, according to the amounts of their respective judgments so far as the said balance shall extend; and I adjudge and decree accordingly.

OFF THE ROCKS.

A telegram was received by Mr. Dunsmuir to-day stating that the tug Tyhee had last night towed the ship Belvidere off the rocks and into a bay. This is all the information given, but indicates that the first accounts of the condition of the ship were somewhat exaggerated.

THE St. John winter port delegation waited upon the government at Ottawa a few days since. The ministers present were Sir ALEXANDER CAMPBELL, Sir H. LANGEVIN and Mr. FOSTER. Sheriff HARDING addressed the ministers at length, pointing out the natural advantages of St. John as a winter port and urging that the trade should not be sent to Portland. Messrs. WELDON, EVERETT and BAKER also spoke. Sir ALEXANDER CAMPBELL said the matter was one in which not only New Brunswick but Ontario and other western provinces were interested and possibly the steamship company might ask more subsidy for sending their vessels to St. John than the government could afford to pay. Mr. WELDON remarked that great expenditures had been made for the benefit of the Northwest and British Columbia and the maritime provinces were entitled to some consideration. Sir ALEXANDER said the representations of the delegates would be considered by the government. The delegates have left for home.

SIR DONALD A. SMITH, in answer to inquiries by a reporter, said that though he had no desire to re-enter political life he had been repeatedly urged by friends to stand for Winnipeg for the House of Commons, and his mind was not made up. "Had the request," he said, "come from one side of politics, I should not have considered it. If I come forward at all it will be as an entirely Independent Conservative."
